

Translation of the letter of support received from Tibetan Lama Thubten Wangchen:

April 27, 2018

To Whom it May Concern:

This is a letter of official acknowledgement, on behalf of Tibet House, Barcelona, for the project: Free the Past, Heal the Future, focused on the liberation of cultural trauma.

We consider this initiative as really important in this 21st Century, technologically and materialistically developed, but also in which we humans live with ever more stress, fear and mistrust.

With no difference to religion, race, culture or nation, we believe it is the moment in which each of us should dedicate time to prayer. In this very difficult epoch, we should cultivate the motivation to improve humanity, protect the environment and enhance mutual respect so that world peace may be achieved.

Throughout history, all of the world, civil and holy wars have been provoked by people, not animals. However, the capacity for reason of the human being seems to have regressed in certain aspects. For this reason it is necessary to pause in order to reflect and then advance in a good direction.

I wholly support this project and hope that this initiative has much success.

With my best wishes, I dedicate my prayers so that there is peace in the world and all people will achieve true happiness.

Lama Thubten Wangchen
Director of Tibet House
Deputy of the Parliament for Tibetans in Exile in Europe
